National Historical Park

Hafa Adai!

As Superintendent of War in the Pacific National Historical Park, I'm pleased to welcome you to this very special place. At seven sites on land and underwater, this park commemorates the people of World War II and protects and interprets amazing natural and historic resources. We are pleased to offer this first-ever River Ranger program to connect youths to some of these resources, right alongside educators and other park experts. For 3rd and 4th graders this is an exciting opportunity to visit War in the Pacific National Historical Park!

Yet this is also an exciting time for other national parks across the country. On August 25, 2016, the National Park Service will celebrate its 100th birthday. As we approach the Centennial with renewed energy, our focus will be to "connect with and create the next generation of park visitors, supporters, and advocates". Over the next several months we will engage youths in a variety of programs and outdoor activities. This River Ranger program is just one opportunity!

Throughout the day, River Rangers will discover up-close some of the less-visited ecosystems on Guam, as well as the fascinating creatures that live there. Moreover, they'll learn aspects of personal safety while hiking in Guam's watersheds as well as a deeper sense of responsibility for caring for the island's fragile resources. Spending time in the great outdoors of a national park is often a transformative experience, for both the young and old. We hope this engaging experience will inspire these River Rangers for a lifetime and that their new understandings of science may lead to future careers in biology, botany, natural resource management, interpretation, education, or in federal service caring for our public lands.

Working together with our non-profit partner, Pacific Historic Parks, we look forward to our first River Ranger program. Join with us as we engage the youth on Guam to become future care takers of our national parks!

Sincerely,

Jim Richardson
Superintendent
War in the Pacific National Historical Park

Hafa Adai!

April 2015

Are your children looking for something fun to do outdoors during the weekend? Are they curious about rivers and what lives in them? Perhaps they might be fascinated with interesting creatures and plants only found on Guam. Then enroll them in War in the Pacific National Historical Park's first ever River Ranger program!

The park will host River Ranger at Masso River in the month of May. Your children will spend a Saturday morning with park rangers and biologists to explore a river located in their national park.

Children will participate in fun lessons that teach about Guam's rivers. Through demonstrations, hands-on activities, lively group discussions, and personal interactions with plant and wildlife, children will build on their knowledge of the natural world. They will walk along a shallow river, explore the special values they hold, and learn how to protect them.

The sessions take place on Saturdays on May 2, 9, and 16, 2015 from 8:30 am to 12:30 pm. Children in 3rd and 4th grades are eligible to participate.

Pre-registration is required. Registration packets should be picked up and submitted at the T. Stell Newman Visitor Center in Sumay. Registration packets can also be downloaded from www.nps.gov/wapa.

Seats are limited and reservation of slots are on a first come, first serve basis. The last day to submit completed registration packets and a $20 refundable deposit is Monday, April 20, 2015.

If you have any questions, please call Education Assistant Tanya Sortor at 671-482-1234 or 671-477-7279, ext 1015 or email at educationspecialist@pacifichistoricparks.org.

We hope to see you and your child at your national park this May!
